3. Recipe Authenticity & Product Listing Standards

Every batch listed on Wangs must celebrate authentic culinary traditions. Sellers must maintain full ingredient traceability, natural cold-pressed oils, and traditional fermentation methods. Synthetic chemical preservatives (such as sodium benzoate in excess of permissible limits) and artificial food dyes are strictly prohibited. Product listings must accurately reflect ingredients, spice levels, and dietary attributes (e.g. Vegetarian, Non-Vegetarian pork/chicken/beef/bamboo shoot).

4. Mandatory FSSAI Food Safety Registration & Licensing

In strict compliance with the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) Act, all active sellers on Wangs must possess a verified 14-digit FSSAI License or Registration Number. Sellers are required to:

- Maintain active, unexpired FSSAI registration throughout the listing lifecycle.
- Print the official 14-digit FSSAI registration number and logo prominently on every product jar label.
- Provide clear batch numbers, manufacturing dates, and Best-Before dates (minimum 6 months shelf life).
- Disclose mandatory allergen advisories (mustard seeds, crustacean prawn, soy, or fish extracts).

5. Insulated Glass Packaging & Shock-Proof Logistics SLAs

Because Wangs ships handcrafted glass pickle jars nationwide via express air cargo, package integrity is critical to eliminate transit breakage and oil leakage. Sellers must adhere to the following dispatch standards:

GLASS JAR PACKAGING & DISPATCH REQUIREMENTS

- Induction / Foil Sealing: Every glass jar must feature an airtight induction foil seal or shrink-wrapped neck cap to prevent oil seep
- Multi-Layer Cushioning: Wrap individual jars in minimum 3 layers of 10mm bubble wrap or honeycomb paper cushioning prior to box
- Multi-Jar Divider Cartons: Bundles of 2 to 4 jars must utilize corrugated divider inserts separating each jar by at least 15mm of cus
- Fulfillment SLA (24-48 Hours): Orders must be packaged, labeled with Wangs cargo slips, and ready for courier pickup within 24-

6. Platform Commercials, Commission & Net Payouts

Wangs maintains a transparent, predictable fee structure designed to protect regional producer margins. There are no listing fees or upfront store maintenance charges.

- Platform Commission: A standard 10% commission is calculated automatically on retail line items at order snapshot.
- Base Price Guarantee: The seller's listed base product price payout is protected and accounted for in the producer settlement le
- Customer Discounts: The 10% Brand Bundle discount is shared under the platform promotional structure, incentivizing 2x to 4x b
- Logistics Integration: Nationwide delivery logistics, customer transit tracking, and SMS/Email order notifications are managed

7. Weekly Bank Settlements & Payout Schedules

Producer earnings are settled weekly via Automated Clearing House (NEFT/RTGS) bank transfer directly to your verified business bank account. Settlements include all orders successfully fulfilled during the previous settlement cycle. Sellers can monitor accrued balances, commission deductions, and download tax invoices in the Seller Portal at any time.

8. Quality Audits, Breakage & Customer Return Policies

Due to the perishable and artisanal nature of food products, Wangs enforces a strict no-return policy for customer preference. However, in cases of transit leakage verified via photographic evidence within 24 hours of delivery, the platform initiates replacement or refund. Sellers with transit breakage rates exceeding 2% are required to undergo packaging re-certification.
